To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to recommend Terah Partridge for future clinical opportunities. I had the pleasure of working with Terah during her clinical internship here at Choice Integrated Healthcare; an outpatient behavioral health facility. Throughout this time, she consistently demonstrated the qualities that make for an outstanding clinician-in-training such as empathy, patience, a strong willingness to learn, and professionalism.

Terah approaches clients with genuine warmth and empathy, helping them feel seen, respected, and safe. She is patient and attentive, taking the time to build rapport and understand client needs while remaining mindful of boundaries and clinical expectations. She also demonstrates a notable willingness to learn. She actively sought feedback and incorporated guidance into her clinical practice in a thoughtful and timely manner.

In addition, Terah maintained a high level of professionalism in all aspects of her internship. She was respectful with clients and staff alike and maintained appropriate therapeutic boundaries. She handled sensitive situations with discretion and contributed to a positive, collaborative environment on our team.

It was truly a pleasure to have Terah as an intern, and I recommend her for her future endeavors. Please feel free to contact me at mdeboer@choiceihc.org if you would like any additional information.

Sincerely,

Madelyn DeBoer, LMSW
